Projects

My Billing Book

Technologies: Html, Css and Javascript

- This project is a simple billing system built using HTML, CSS, and JavaScript that allows users to enter customer details and add multiple items with quantity and price.
- It dynamically generates a bill table where each added item is displayed along with its calculated total amount (quantity $\times$ price).
- The application maintains and updates a live grand total, giving a real-time summary of the overall bill amount.
- The UI is designed with a clean card layout, styled table, and a highlighted total section to make the billing interface user-friendly and visually appealing.
